Antioch woman dies in Wisconsin fire

by GLORIA DAVIS

A 21 year-old woman, Laura Brown, raised in Antioch, daughter of Norrine Brown, Antioch and Richard Brown, Burlington, died of carbon monoxide poisoning, in a major fire in Genoa City, Wis., on Wednesday, Feb. 10.

According to a report at the Walworth County Sheriff's Dept., the fire started in Brown's apartment in a combination liquor store and apartment building, at the main intersection in downtown Genoa City, at approximately 2:45 a.m. It was brought under control by 8:30 a.m. and completely extinguished by 2:30 p.m.

Completely gutting the building that contained eight apartments, the fire routed the tenants in the early morning hours.

Several near-by fire departments answered the fire alarm. Coming to the aid of Genoa City were emergency vehicles from Bloomfield Township, Twin Lakes, Silver Lake, Lake Geneva, Linn Township, Richmond and Zenda.

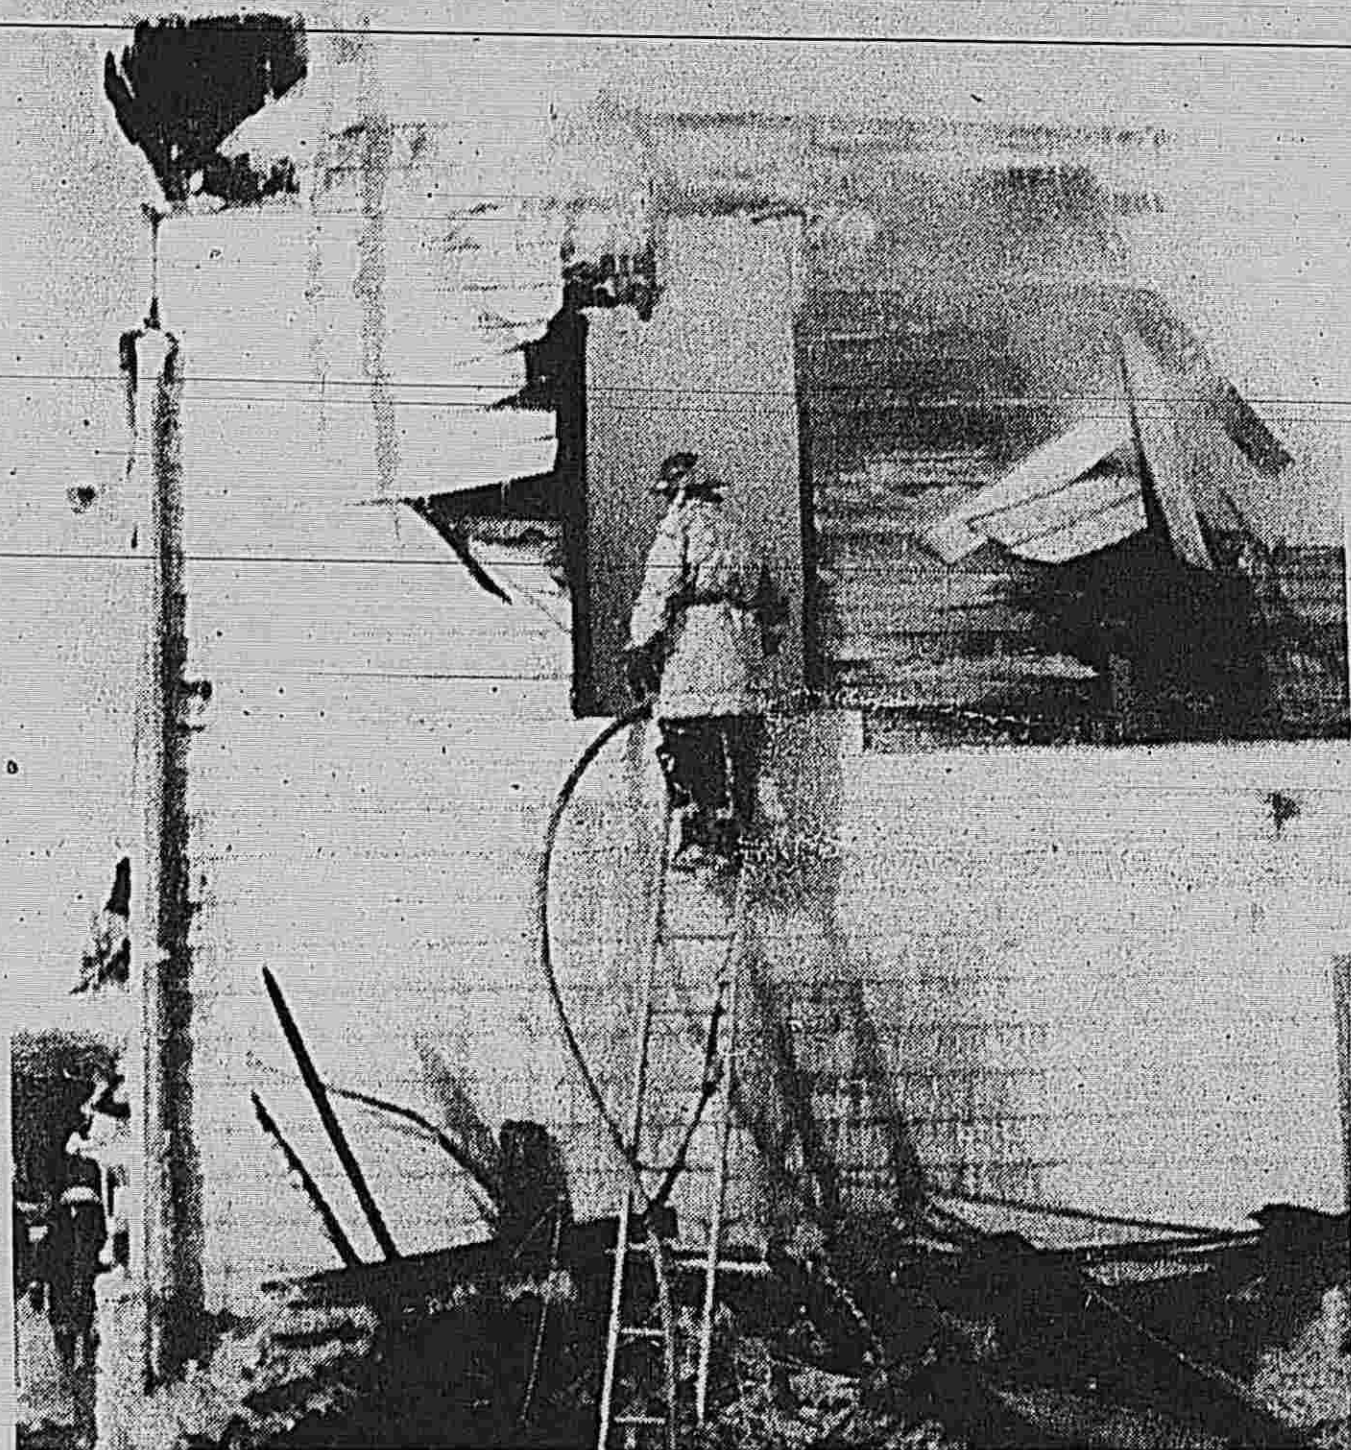

In all, 100 firemen worked under adverse arctic conditions to put out the fire.

According to Genoa City Fire Chief John Wrzeszcz, the efforts of the fire fighters were hampered by cold temperatures and frozen fire equipment. One fireman was taken to Burlington Memorial Hospital and treated for frost bitten feet.

It took all the water in the Genoa City water tower besides the water from the neighboring fire departments' tankers to extinguish the blaze.

Brown's body was found in the rubble at 2:30 p.m. One of the main purposes of having the neighboring fire departments standby was to keep the fire from spreading throughout the old, closely connected buildings of downtown Genoa City.

A large part of the business section of the village was coated with ice during and after the blaze. Classes at nearby Brookwood Grade School were called off for the day because the school buses were unable to get through the congested traffic.

BLAZE DESTROYS HOTEL — Early morning fire destroyed old hotel in Genoa City, Wis., housing eight apartments and liquor store. Former Antioch resident, Laura Brown, 21, was killed in fire on Wednesday, Feb. 10.

$2,000 cash bond posted in toy party scam

According to Lt. Tom Fisher of the Antioch Police Dept., Marilyn Muth, 34, Tinley Park, Ill., has posted a $2,000 cash bond with the Antioch Police Dept., in connection with local felony charges against her of theft exceeding $300.

Muth will be arraigned in Lake County Court, at 9 a.m., on Friday, Feb. 19, on charges of allegedly bilking 15 area residents in a toy party scam.

Muth has also posted $2,500 cash bond in Cook County on similar charges.

She is being charged with reportedly setting up a party in Antioch on Nov. 16 where she allegedly received approximately $2,000 from 15 area residents as half-payment for toys she promised to deliver, working a special purchase through major mail-order houses.

The remainder of the purchase cost was to be made on a delivery that never took place.

Eight other Chicago area municipalities, including Blue Island and Palos Heights, are reportedly bringing similar charges against Muth.

Police chase nets teen drunk driver

Although the teenage Wisconsin drinking traffic has been behaving itself enroute through Antioch lately because of the strict traffic enforcement of the Antioch Police Dept., the problem does still exist.

According to Antioch Police Chief Chuck Miller, one such incident occurred at 12:43 a.m., on Thursday, Feb. 11.

Officer Dennis Granfield, who was working the Wisconsin traffic detail, observed a vehicle speeding south on Rte. 83 near the state line.

Granfield attempted to stop the car but it took off, traveling west on Orchard St., allegedly going 60 miles an hour in a 20 mile per hour zone. The vehicle ran the stop sign at Orchard and Hillside Sts., headed south on Hillside, running the stop sign at Hillside and Lake Sts., another at Rte. 173 and spun into a snowbank just before the intersection of Rte. 59.

Richard Voling, 20, Round Lake, was arrested and charged with fleeing and eluding an officer, reckless driving and driving while intoxicated.

He posted bond with court date pending in March.

Concerned citizens delve deeper into dump data

According to Marilyn Shineflug, the Coalition Of Concerned Citizens (CCC), will announce the kick off of their information campaign, designed to inform Antioch village residents of the proposed expansion of the village's landfill, at the village board meeting on Monday, Feb. 15.

CCC members are involved in extensive research regarding the impact of expanding the existing 80 acre dump site by an additional 70 acres.

Some of the areas being researched are: impact on drinking water supply, effects on property values near the site and throughout the village, possibilities of hazardous wastes being dumped at the site, the inability of the village to control what will be dumped, the possible long term health hazards of so large a site, and the village's reliance on the dump owners for monitoring possible pollution of waterways.

CCC is presenting its findings prior to the March 4 meeting of the Antioch planning and zoning commissions, when members of those bodies will formulate their recommendations to the village trustees regarding the landfill.

The coalition is also attempting to measure village residents' opinions as to whether or not they would like to see the present dump site expanded to 188 percent of its present size.

Residents are being asked to make their feelings known by attending village board meetings.

Low cost enthuses museum audience

by GLORIA DAVIS

The Antioch-Lakes Region Historical Society and the plans for the renovation of the old grade school building on Main St. into an historical museum, got a real shot in the arm at the meeting held for interested parties at the State Bank of Antioch, on Tuesday, Feb. 9.

One of the first orders of business was the election of new officers to direct the society and its efforts. Al Little is the new president, Tim Osmond, vice-president, Sue Glenn, secretary and Gus Costof, treasurer.

One of the most important things established at the meeting by the guest speakers from the Libertyville-Mundelein Historical Society was that there was no need for a high cost in operating a successful historic museum.

Robert Dunne, Marie Janik and Jean Dresser related their experiences in working on a similar project in Libertyville. They suggested that a good committee set-up was important, as well as monthly meetings to keep interest in the program alive.

Community efforts, especially in raising the necessary monies, was stressed. Joining the Congress of Historic Societies in Springfield was pointed out as being another important step and keeping an original atmosphere was also suggested.

The Libertyville Museum is in a victorian home so much of the decor remains the same. The possibility of keeping the school motif in the Antioch museum was brought up with the idea of maybe having a restored classroom was greeted with interest.

Enthusiasm among the 60 members of the audience ran high, as agreement came from the audience to Dunne's suggestion that the project be worked on in phases. One resident suggested that a five-year plan be utilized, setting a goal and raising money to achieve it during each of the five years.

The executive board will hold a meeting on Tuesday, Feb. 16, and it is expected that the members of the board will probably chair some of the respective committees, such as membership, publicity etc.. At the same time they will also probably consider bi-laws for the society.

The next general open meeting is slated for Tuesday, March 9, at the Antioch Lower Grade School. At this time those wishing to work on any of the committees will be given the opportunity to sign up for them.

Cross country ski clinics planned

Antioch Parks and Recreation Dept., in conjunction with Gregg Dixon of TriAngle Sports, will be holding another cross country ski clinic.

March 15 at 7 p.m. the indoor class will be held at the Scout House on Main St. The outdoor clinic will be held Sunday, March 21 at 8 p.m., at the Lehman Farm in Lake Villa.

The fee is $10 for rental and instruction. To register, call the parks office at (312) 395-2160.

The only president of the United States to serve as a Chief Justice of the Supreme Court was William Howard Taft, whose term ran from 1921 to 1930.

Purchase of 2.5 acres to allow sewer expansion

The village of Antioch, which has been against hooking-up to the Northwest Regional Sewer System of Northern Lake County, when and if the need for expanding its present sewer facilities arose, has just purchased 2.5 acres for $40,000, that will allow that expansion from the present 10,000 to a 15,000 population capability.

The newly purchased acreage, that runs west of the public works department to Hillside Ave., will be used by that department to store fuel tanks, salt etc.

Then part of the 11 acres, adjoining the present treatment plant, now being used for storage, will be utilized to enlarge the treatment plant.

Trustee Claudette Skvarce, the only member of the village board to vote against the purchase of the 2.5 acres, objected to the location because she didn't like the appearance of a fenced-in public works department in a subdivision.

The rest of the board liked the location because it would keep all the buildings comprising the public works department together.

First step of section eight housing approval taken

The first step in bringing a 90 unit senior citizen, low-income housing development to the village of Antioch, was taken care of when the developer of the project, Don Samuelson, who was responsible for the Cedar Village Senior Development, received approval of his preliminary plans from the Antioch Planning Commission.

At least 80 of these units will be in one building, the height of this to be determined. Samuelson said that it will probably be three to four stories tall after the board objected to one built in five stories.

The plans call for 48 one-bedroom units and 32 two bedroom apartments in the one building, used mainly by the elderly though not restricted to their use.

The property, which is located on the east side of Main St., north of Williams Park, owned by Harold Young, will also contain 10 three-bedroom town houses.

Funding for the project will come from the Dept. of Housing and Urban Development and the Illinois Dept. of Housing Administration and rental of the units will be available to anyone who qualifies for section eight housing, not only seniors.

Those qualifying and living in Antioch will get preference.

Samuelson reports that the construction should take approximately two years with starting date necessary by June 1, to qualify for the funding.

June 1983 is the target completion date.

The village board has had that property in mind for a project of this nature for a long time, but because of the trouble in getting funding, the special use zoning of the property has run out, making it necessary for another rezoning of the four-and-one-half acres.

The next step will be completed when Samuelson takes the plans to the Antioch Zoning Board of Appeals on March 3 for approval and then the village board will have the last say when the plan, with both planning and zoning recommendations, is brought before them.

Editorial Put him on ballot

On March 16, voters in the 12th congressional district will go to the polls with little choice of who they will vote for for congress.

Those opting for the Republican ballot will see the name of Philip Crane, a Republican from Mt. Prospect.

Those selecting a Democratic ballot will see no name. In one of the grossest injustices in recent electoral history, the name of Dan DeFosse of Antioch is not on the ballot because Express Mail mis-delivered his petitions and they did not arrive in Springfield, not only overnight as the postal department claims, but they didn't even arrive over an entire weekend.

Therefore, DeFosse's name will not appear on the ballot. However he can still be the standard bearer for the Democratic Party if he can garner somewhere over 600 write-in votes in the March 16 primary.

That may not be an easy task since DeFosse is a relative unknown in a large district that includes large Republican portions of Lake and McHenry County.

We believe that those voters who take a Democratic ballot March 16 should take the time to write in the name of Dan DeFosse for representative in congress in the 12th district. We believe that when voters go to the polls in November to decide who will represent them in congress, they should have a choice.

In communist countries, when there are elections, there is just one name on the ballot, that of the Communist Party candidate. In this country we are proud of our democracy and the fact that we have a choice. We have a two party system.

And not that it will happen, but what if Crane should get caught doing something that voters would not approve of? What if Reaganomics backfires and we're all out of work by November? The fact of the matter is that voters going to the polls in November should have a choice.

DeFosse has his own ideas on issues and he speaks intelligently on them, issues like interest rates, the oil shortage, food stamps, school lunch programs, social security. But his biggest campaign issue is that it's time to send a non-politician to Washington. A little unusual, but some people might agree with him.

For that reason, he should appear on the ballot. If he is to be defeated, he should be defeated by Crane, not by the U.S. Postal System. Democrats must write-in his name on the ballot March 16.

Keeping in touch

Antioch's agenda full

by DONNA DeFOSSE

THE HISTORICAL Society of Antioch had a good response from approximately 40 persons who attended last Tuesday night's meeting at the State Bank of Antioch. The meeting was open to the public and was in regards to the old school building on Main St.

Another meeting is planned for March 9, at the Antioch Lower Grade School, at 7 p.m. and the public is encouraged to attend.

The last meeting was the appointment of officers who are: President, Al Little; Vice President, Tim Osmond; Secretary, Sue Glenn; and Treasurer, Gus Costof.

Directors are: James Kopriva, Betty Lou Williams, Ann Kakacek, Lucille Kuechenmeister, James Quedenfeld, Roberta Knirsch and Bill Brook.

There were also persons at the meeting from the Libertyville-Mundelein Historical Society who presented insight into a project like that of the renovation of the old school building. I am sure the information was appreciated. See you at the meeting March 9.

PARKS AND Recreation says there is room for more in both the ballet classes, from 3:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. and the aerobic classes on Tuesday and Friday mornings, from 10 to 11 a.m. Everyone involved in having a ball and for moms and gals who are busy afternoons and evenings, the aerobic classes are reasonable, costwise and timewise! You may contact Glenda or Dee at the Parks and Recreation office at (312) 395-2160.

JAYCETTES and others adding to 88 bowlers turned in sheets for pledges of close to $5,000 for the Jaycettes Bowling for Autism, held Feb. 7. Barb Spillner assured me a good time was had by all and that the money will be turned over to SEDOL's Autistic Classes right here in Lake County.

Although they did not exceed last year, they came awfully close. Call Barb, (312) 395-6047 or Ginetta, (312) 395-2093 and find out how you can become involved in this worthwhile project. (Hope Bob, from SEDOL, won't have to long a wait before his knee cap is fully healed. Seems he hurt it while bowling in the marathon.)

JAYCEES ARE now in the planning stages of their spring blood drive. For any information contact Chuck Spillner at (312) 395-6047.

THE CUB SCOUTS' Blue and Gold Dinner is getting closer and closer, so make sure you have found out what all that will be needed to make this Feb. 21 the best ever!

Barb Westland has all the Pinewood Derby cars in and you can call your son's den mother for information. The derby will be at the March pack meeting and winners will go on to Round Lake for championships. (Remember Dad — "No cheating!") Cars are a dollar apiece. Thank you Barb Westland.

THE ROTARY CLUB had their "Sweetheart" luncheon Thursday, Feb. 11, at Avantis Restaurant, for members and their sweethearts. A slide presentation of Egypt and Israel was shown by Rev. Olson, which I'm sure warmed up anyone from the midwest about now. The good company has the same effect!

It's definitely not a "blah" month for the folks at St. Stephen Lutheran (LCA) located on Rte. 59 and Hillside Ave. (on the hill). Jan. 31 was the annual congregational meeting and Steven Beitzel, Lou Korom, Jr., Al Rodriguez and Gene Voight were elected to the church council.

Also starting this past Jan. was Systematic Training For Effective Parenting (STEP) classes which are open to the public. In addition, the church offers the following: every Tuesday morning at 10 a.m. people are more than welcome to attend Bible study classes at the church; on the last Sunday of the month, the church sponsors a refreshment Sunday, (looks like a good way to get to know people within the church).

You may contact Lynne Kirkegaard for information on any of the above mentioned on Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday at (312) 395-3359 and also get information on the upcoming men's breakfast, toboggan party (Feb. 28) and family activity night, set for March 20.

Lake County Baptists will be gathering at Antioch's Calvary Baptist Church, Saturday, Feb. 20, for a "Tubing for Youth" outing. They will be leaving the church at 11:30 a.m. to go to Maplehurst, on Wilmet Rd. and should return by 2 p.m. to the church for hot chocolate. The number to call to get in on the fun is Rev. James Reed, (312) 395-3393.

Again, may I extend to you the readers of Antioch an invitation to give me a call with your church, school, club and organization information, so I may share it with all. If it is important to you than it is important to your paper! (312) 395-4873.

FIFTY YEARS AGO: February 11, 1932

Carl Barthel, Constable Carl Andersen and incumbent, Frank Dunn, all filed candidacy papers for the office of Antioch Township Road Commissioner.

Dr. E. J. Lutterman, Carl Andersen and George Malek were initiated into the local Moose Lodge.

Jimmy McMillen made his first appearance in Chicago in many months when he appeared at the Coliseum in a wrestling match against Jim Clinkatock.

The classified section of the Antioch News ran an add for the rental of a 10 room house on six acres of land; all modern conveniences. The rent asked was a whopping $30 per month!

The Antioch A&P advertised lettuce, in the middle of winter, for sale for 11 cents a head.

THIRTY YEARS AGO: February 14, 1952

D. H. Minto lost his bid for election to the Lake County Farm Bureau and Avery Vose resigned his position on that bureau.

Russel, Stewart and James Olson, three brothers from Grayslake, purchased the Sheahan Implement Co., at 325 Depot St.

Jerry Quilty and Loraine Steinel appeared on radio station WKRS, Waukegan, to promote the Antioch High School junior class' leap year dance.

William T. Hucker enlisted in the U.S. Air Force.

The Women of St. Ignatius Church met at the home of Mrs. J. Ernest Brook to greet the church's new pastor, Rev. Harvey Strange, his wife Jean and their three children.

Mr. and Mrs. William Rosing, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Shostak and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dressel were wintering in Florida.

TEN YEARS AGO: February 16, 1972

Gary R. Rush, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Rush, had been appointed to the United States Naval Academy.

The Antioch News ran an editorial on the apathy of the township voters in the preceeding week's primary election, chastising them for their poor turnout at the polls!

Cliff Bode was the only Sequoit wrestler that made a good showing at the district meet held in Warren.

Dick Witt received his degree in insurance underwriting. Janet Polsgrove, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Polsgrove, made the dean's list at Illinois Wesleyan University.

Dee(Stillsen) and Mike Hauser adopted their second Iranian baby.

Kathy Toft had a "Sweet 16" birthday party. Others celebrating birthdays this week were Marge Gaa, Jean Proctor and Reggie Szymanski.

The Antioch news ran a delicious sounding recipe for Martha Washington's Raisin Cake in honor of the upcoming celebration of her husband's birthday.

Rainbow Girls schedule pancake breakfast

Antioch Rainbow Girls will hold a pancake breakfast on Sunday, Feb. 21 from 9 a.m. to noon at Antioch Moose Lodge, 884 Main St., Antioch. Donation is $2.25 for adults, $1.50 for children 12 and under.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

Maybe Antioch will have a new policewoman to add to the police department in a few years if Sgt. Chuck Watkins has anything to say about it.

Watkin's pretty wife Connie presented him with a brand new, six pound, nine ounce baby girl named Jennifer, on Monday Feb. 8.

It won't be long until the sergeant will be able to start his little one in training and I don't mean police training.

Congrats to one of Antioch's smarter scholars, Tom Stroschein, son of Loretta and Frank Stroschein, who has just made the dean's honor list at Marquette University.

That takes some doing with Marquette's high scholastic standards.

There are already three winners in the calendar and clues contest being held in the library of the Antioch Upper Grade School.

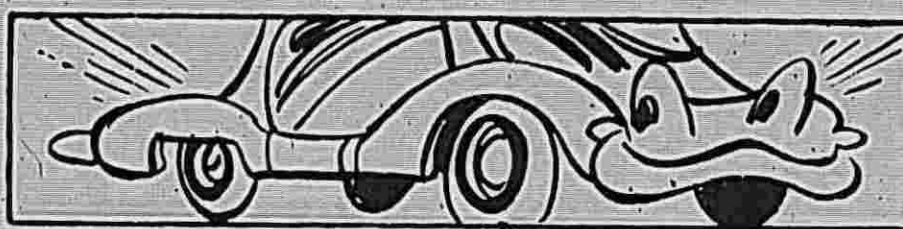

William Keeling, Chris Shea and Steve Ver Hagen have won prizes while learning to use reference books.

I wonder who will be Antioch's 1982 VIP. I'm not dropping a hint or anything but when old Annie Mae attends that enjoyable event, she's begining to feel like Bob Hope at the Academy Awards, always there but never a winner.

Have you noticed all the wonderful sales in all the stores in Antioch? But alas, with it also being tax time and high heat bill time, I've got to find something to sell myself before I can dig up the money to take advantage of all those great bargains.

Anybody need a black 1948 ballerina skirt with matching slippers?

Some estimate that the average life of a car should be around 70,000 miles (probably around the sixth year). Stage review

'Roomies' light dessert

by GLORIA DAVIS

"Roomies," a sweet-fluffy farce was the perfect vehicle to open on Friday, Feb. 13, Valentine's weekend, at Andre's Dinner Theater in Richmond.

Barbara Miller, the show's director, even added "sweetheart red" as the mainstay of the stage's decor.

The show, an absurd romantic comedy, that often goes overboard on the slapstick, might be considered by some to be the prescribed light dessert after dining on one of Andre's most substantial entrees.

Though the play may not rank highly by theatrical standards, the opening night audience certainly laughed loudly at the antics of the cast.

With the build of a football player, Brian Blanchard flits through his role as the harassed lover. His nervous hysteria seemed to tickle the audience's fancy.

Michelle Patzke plays the role of the puzzled fiancée in an appropriately puzzled manner, while Pam Guardi adds a funny nasal twang to her usual sex-pot interpretation of Zenobia Poindexter, the heroine's late-blossoming college room-mate.

Glen Stevens is good as the jockey, ala Stanley Clements, but his portrayal of "the other" Zenobia Poindexter, is often overdone, bordering on being silly and not too believable, but again this burlesque-like comedy has been around a long time.

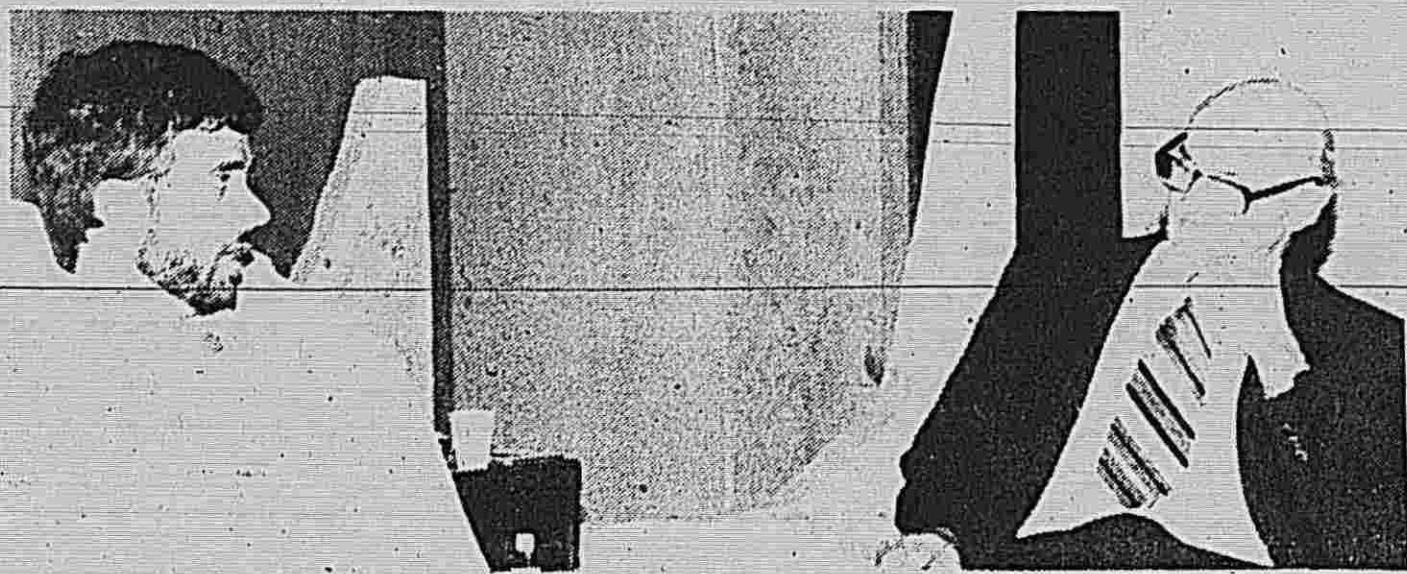

The last member of the cast, Frank DiMarco plays a competent family lawyer.

How does a guy convince his rich fiancée that the sexy babe she has just met was ugly when they were room-mates in school and the proverbial "nothing happened?"

Spend an evening-out at Andre's during the next two weekends and find out.

PM&L's 'Life' has good plot, but lacks action

by LINDA ADAMS

"Whose Life Is It Anyway?" deals, and deals well, with the question "to pull the plug or not to the pull" when dealing with a hopelessly paralyzed hospital patient.

Brian Clark's play revolves around a sculptor whose life has been stopped abruptly when he is involved in a car accident which leaves him with a broken neck and no use of his arms or legs.

The ensuing struggle between the doctors who are trying to keep him alive, the nurses who are trying to encourage him to want to stay alive and the patient who is launching an all scale battle to die gives the audience an unusual angle to an unusual situation.

Although some play-goers tend to view the play as a comedy because of the tongue-in-cheek attitude woven through much of the story line, the serious overtones of the play is always present and at times tends to make the action drag.

It is difficult to maintain a steady flow of activity on stage when the main character is paralyzed. It almost leaves the audience feeling as though it were paralyzed, too.

Unfortunately, because of the very nature of the plot and the restriction of the main character's and therefore, to some extent, the entire cast's activities, the play was slow and required an effort from the audience to remain interested in what was going on.

Phillip Jaeger, who played Ken Harrison, the paralyzed sculptor, did his best to project the emotions and the helplessness of his character's situation. But because he could not use any arm movements and was limited to expounding his lines from his hospital bed, it began to feel as if you were visiting someone at the hospital, which is not a lot of fun.

Ginny Schaufel, playing Dr. Joan Scott and Tom Hausman, playing Dr. Michael Emerson, the two attending doctors, portray the serious part of their characters, but fail to project convincing aspects of each to round out the parts.

Donna O'Donnell, playing Kay, the young nurse and Peter Thelen, the red-headed orderly, provide much needed comic relief from all of this seriousness with several scenes that remind the audience that the hospital is not all just furrowed foreheads, white walls and bed pans.

All actors and actresses were well-rehearsed for the opening night and gave good performances. But with such a heavy toned play, lines must be delivered right on cue, almost early and parts must be extremely well-developed to round out an interesting, but extremely slow moving play.

Ask Dr. Sven Do You Take Novocain?

Having a tooth drilled is unpleasant. Most of us can agree on that. Modern dentistry has ways of dealing with this discomfort. The most commonly used is the local anesthetic injection.

However, many patients prefer to "be brave" and forgo the injection. There are several possible reasons.

1) Their teeth aren't sensitive. People have widely varying tolerance of pain. Some patients may not find drilling uncomfortable.

2) They are afraid of the needle. But anesthetic injections wouldn't make much sense if they were more painful than drilling; they aren't. These people should try the injection — at least once.

3) They don't want to be numb for hours. Many dental anesthetics are available. Some give anesthesia for several hours, some only about a half hour.

Remember that your dentist can do better work if you are comfortable and still.

Dr. Sven will be happy to answer individual questions about dental problems. Address personal inquiries to his office.

A woman's place

Tell them you're coming, they'll bake a cake

by DONNA DEFOSSÉ

Have you ever had one of your children ask for a special birthday cake, something totally different, maybe a spider, a dragon, R2D2? What about a Strawberry Shortcake? Just once, would you like to surprise your loved one with some far out cake on their birthday or anniversary? Well, now Antioch has its own specialty cake store.

"Sweet Fantasies", Antioch's specialty bakery, is located on North Ave. in the North Ave. Shoppe Mall. The proud owners are Elaine and Roy Zeman with help from a special friend Cheri Miller, (she and hubby have the Family Pride Laundromat in the same plaza!)

When asked how a mother of seven children ever become involved in making a variety of cakes, Elaine assured me that between Cheri and Don's six children and her and Roy's seven, they have had a lot of practice on birthday cakes.

The big project that started some five years ago was Cheri's parents 40th wedding anniversary cake, their first shot at a large tier cake. It was half the size of a ping-pong table, but they had fun doing it.

From that day forward the proof was in the batter, practice made perfect! Friends would take pictures to Elaine and she would take it from there.

Everyone told Elaine how talented she was and she had always wanted a shop, now her experience can be shared by all. Let us not underestimate the work involved and oh, yes they make regular cakes and wedding cakes too. Elaine enjoys making wedding cakes most of all and every holiday will hold a variety of different tasty baked goods, plus some delicious, strange sounding pastries like gismos, critters, etc.

So if you are in the mood for a change, stop in and see Elaine and Roy Zeman or call them at (312) 395-5656. One question Elaine, "Who ordered that Dolly Parton cake?"

Carole gives drinking quiz

by CAROLE RISK

Legs severed, faces torn, teeth knocked out, reckless driving resisting police officers, fighting medical aids and the list goes on and on, according to the newspapers a total of 102 people were killed in auto accidents in Lake County last year.

Alcohol was present in the blood stream of 63 of them and 34 percent of those 102 were between the ages of 14 and 19.

Many of the young people had been drinking or the accidents they were in related to drinking. With all the attention that drug use receives, many people overlook the facts about alcohol and praise the heavens that their kids are not involved with drugs.

The plain truth is that there are nine million Americans that are dependent on alcohol and maybe its time we acknowledged the fact that it is a drug too.

Nearly seven out of every 10 adult Americans use alcohol and 10 percent of them get in trouble with it.

Alcohol dependency has no social boundaries. For example, 40 percent of alcoholics have college degrees and furthermore we have had a President's wife publicly speak of her drinking problems.

The alcohol-referral service at College of Lake County recommends that you consider the following 12 points.

1. Do you think and talk about drinking often?
2. Do you drink more now than you used to?
3. Do you sometimes gulp drinks?
4. Do you often take a drink to help you relax?
5. Do you sometimes forget what happened while you were drinking?
6. Do you ever drink in the morning to relieve a hangover?
7. Have you ever had an accidental injury after having some drinks?
8. Do you sometimes have several drinks when you meant to have only one or two?

9. Have people annoyed you by criticizing your drinking?

10. Have you ever had arguments with family or friends caused by your drinking?

11. Have you ever felt guilty or embarrassed about your drinking?

12. Are there times you feel uncomfortable if alcohol is not available?

The CLC Alcohol Education Center further recommends that if you answered more than three YES questions, it would be wise to speak to someone that is qualified to help you determine whether or not alcohol is a problem in your life.

Remember that a problem with alcohol can be treated successfully. On the other hand it is impossible to successfully treat severed legs, torn faces and knocked out teeth, and for death there is no treatment at all.

Two more candidates to speak

Two more candidates have been added to the list of area political hopefuls that will speak to the Oakwood Knolls Property Owners Assn., at 7:30 p.m., on Thursday, Feb. 18, at the Antioch VFW Hall on North Ave.

Jim Olson, candidate for state representative and Norm Geary, candidate for Lake County Board have been added to the list.

Also speaking will be Jim Fields, incumbent candidate for Lake County Board, Ray Edwards, candidate for county board, Donald Mason, candidate for Lake County Sheriff and Dan De Fosse, candidate for congress and Joe Veith, candidate for precinct captain.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

Dr. R. A. Sona,
OPTOMETRIST

GLAUCOMA WITH 20/20 VISION?

Glaucoma is the leading cause of blindness in the U.S. Most often it strikes people after the age of 35 or 40, and with the aging of the population, the prevalence of the disease is going up rapidly. It is estimated that between 1 and 2 million Americans have some degree of glaucoma. This disorder accounts for approximately 11% of all blindness in the U.S.

Glaucoma is often called the "sneak thief of sight" because in its early stages, there are few noticeable symptoms. Many people have early glaucoma without knowing it. By the time they seek medical help, irreversible damage to the eye may have already occurred. So deceptive are the early symptoms that a person with glaucoma may be able to "pass" an eye chart screening with 20/20 vision.

An oversimplified explanation of glaucoma is an increased pressure of the fluid within the eyeball. If the pressure is not reduced, it destroys delicate structures within the eye.

A complete eye examination by your optometrist will include a simple test of the fluid pressure. If the disease is detected early, in most cases the glaucoma can be controlled and blindness prevented.

Conference choral fest to be held at ACHS

The annual Northwest Suburban Conference (NWSC) Choral Festival will be held at Antioch High School in the north gym, Wednesday, Feb. 17, at 7:30 p.m. Festival day is always a high point in the year for all of the students from the conference.

Approximately 500 singers will gather together from: Warren, Round Lake, Grant, Grayslake, Stevenson, Wauconda, Lake Zurich and Antioch high schools to spend the day in rehearsal, sectional meetings, social hour and evening concert.

Each school in the conference has had an opportunity to contribute to the planning of the music for the festival and in choice of the Guest Director Kurt Chalgren of Kenosha, Wis.

Each year the festival has an honor choir made up of outstanding students from each school, these singers are to perform three numbers, separate from the mass choir.

We feel these people are deserving of special recognition. Last year we added another special group, an honor girls chorus, they will perform one number separately from the mass chorus.

The thrill of hearing 500 voices united as one is unique, we invite you to join us in attending the NWSC Choral Festival Wednesday, Feb. 17, at 7:30 p.m.

Chalgren is in his 15th year of teaching choral music at Tremper High School in Kenosha. Prior to this teaching position, he taught choral, instrumental, and academic music for two years at Iowa Central Community College in Fort Dodge, Iowa. His undergraduate degree is from the University of Northern Iowa and his master of music degree in choral conducting is from Illinois State University.

Chalgren has been musical conductor for recording sessions at the RCA Studios in New York City, Universal Studios in Chicago, WHA Studios in Madison, Wis. and the Dave Kennedy Studios in Milwaukee.

With Chalgren as director, Tremper High School choirs have been chosen to perform at the national conventions of the American Choral Directors Assn. (ACDA), the Music Teachers' National Assn., the National Assn. of Jazz Educators, the Midwest National Band and Orchestra Clinic, and the Music Educators' National Conference (MENC).

The choirs have accepted many invitations to perform concerts and clinics at the state music conventions in Wisconsin and Illinois. Members of this year's A Cappella Choir are looking forward to two performances in April with the Milwaukee Symphony Orchestra.

Chalgren has been a continuous member of MENC since 1966, a continuous member of ACDA since his nomination in 1967, and became an active member of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia in 1961.

He was named Outstanding Young Educator by the Kenosha Jaycees and appears in the 1972 edition of "Outstanding Young Men in America."

In 1976 Chalgren was awarded the Elks Club Bicentennial Americanism Award and was nominated for the Kenosha News 1980 "Kenosha Person of the Year".

FRIGID TEMPS HAMPER FIREFIGHTERS — Fire engine covered with icicles and ice-covered streets and buildings hampered seven fire departments as they fought blaze in downtown Genoa City. Fire started in apartment of Laura Brown, 21, former Antioch resident. Brown died of carbon monoxide poisoning.

Bogus student awards being solicited in area

Many principals, student councils, and activity advisers from all over the country have received a memorandum from George Stevens, executive director of United States Achievement Academy (USAA), asking them to name outstanding students in their schools and organizations.

These students could be recipients of awards like the United States Student Council Award, the United States National Leadership Merit Award, and the United States Homemaker Award.

These awards have no relation to the National Assn. of Student Councils or the National Honor Society which are sponsored by the National Assn. of Secondary School Principals (NASSP).

The NASSP Committee on Contests and Activities views any recognition given to students by merely including them in publications, with titles using "who's who", "outstanding" and "distinguished", and which derive their revenue from sales of these publications to students are of little or no tangible value.

The selection criteria for most commercial recognition programs are often ambiguous and flimsy. Most of the organizations sponsoring these programs are known to the committee, are profit-motivated and are not related to educational, philanthropic, or professional associations.

The organizations often solicit students and their families to purchase the publication or some other type of "award."

Students and parents are encouraged to contact their high school before sending any money to any of these "award programs."

145 pounds, Andy Lehn - sophomore, champion. Lehn made his second appearance in the finals and made this one a championship, beating Warren's Bowen Depke 8-3.

Next week, he takes his 26-1-1 record down to 138 pounds.

155 pounds, George Bessette - junior, champion. Bessette pinned all three opponents in winning his second NWSC title. His opponent in the finals was Grayslake's outstanding wrestler John Holiday. Bessette scored two takedowns and the pin all within 1:10 seconds. Bessette, at 27-1, will move down to 145 pounds next week.

185 pounds, Billy Carney - junior, second. Carney met his old nemesis Lou Pawela of Grant, in the finals and lost a close 5-2 decision. With the score 3-2 late in the third, Carney's takedown attempt was countered by Pawela and scored by the Grant Senior.

Antioch starts down the state tournament trail next week at Round Lake High School. NWSC powers Antioch, Warren, Grant and Waukegan East are expected to battle for the title.

Seven Sequoit matmen advance to sectionals

Seven Antioch Sequoit wrestlers will advance to the IHSA sectional wrestling meet Feb. 19 and 20 at Palatine High School.

However at press time the final team score of the Waukegan East district meet was still being questioned.

According to Sequoit wrestling coach Ted DeRousse, the original score put Waukegan East in first place with a score of 128½ with Antioch second at 128. DeRousse said that the scoring was being retabulated with a possible change of one point which would then vault Antioch in to first place by one-half point.

DeRousse said his team's performance was sparked by Jeff Nieze's championship round win at 112 pounds in which he defeated the number one and number two ceded wrestlers back to back. Nieze dropped the defending district champ Mike Mueller of Warren who had beaten him twice previously and also beat Pat Flynn of Round Lake who had won two close matches during the year.

First and second place winners at the district meet advance to sectional action. Top three winners at sectionals will advance to the state finals.

Sequoits off target in loss to Warren

The Antioch Sequoits played a solid ballgame, according to Coach Roger Andrews, in last Thursday's 52-44 win over Wauconda, but poor shooting spelled defeat Friday at Warren.

The Sequoits played what Andrews termed a "steady, sound ballgame," in defeating Wauconda as Steve Eckhart led the attack with 11 points and eight rebounds and Bob Gatti provided eight more rebounds.

"Again," said Andrews, "We played a good sound defense and our offensive shooting from the field was adequate." Antioch shot 19 of 36 from the floor.

Friday's loss to Warren was "a disaster," according to Andrews.

"We played fairly well in the first half, good except for a couple of letdowns, but we couldn't do anything offensively in the second half," Andrews reported.

The Sequoits trailed by six at half, but shot only 17 of 54 from the floor for the game. "As a result, the outcome of the game was very poor," said Andrews.

Gatti led with 12 points and 12 rebounds and Steve Sheedlo had 12 more.

"We got killed on the boards," said Andrews, whose team was outrebounded 43-22. "We shot poorly and consequently there were a lot of rebounds," said Andrews.

Andrews said that his team will have to work on reestablishing the "team concept on offense" in preparation for its games at home Friday against Lake Zurich and Saturday against Grant. Saturday's contest will be Parents Night, honoring parents of the players and cheerleaders.

There is so much salt in the Great Salt Lake of Utah that one cannot sink or completely submerge oneself in it.

New sheriff's deputy has big nose, blood shot eyes

Lake County, Sheriff, Thomas S. Brown, has introduced a new member of the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. to the public. His name is Chuckles and he is a 14 month old man-trailing police bloodhound owned by Cpl. Steve Townsend, of Lake Villa; Sheriff Brown's administrative assistant.

Brown stated, "Lake County recreational areas are used by many handicapped organizations and, in some cases, problems develop when a youngster may be lost in many of the wooded areas adjacent to camps and schools. In the past, it has required a copious amount of manpower to attempt to search for missing children. The activation of this manpower sometimes takes an excessive amount of time and, in many cases, search efforts are hampered by the time of day, the terrain or the availability of light.

"With the introduction of a man-trailing police bloodhound to the sheriff's department, Cpl. Townsend is on call 24 hours a day to handle the dog and to immediately start a search by using the dog's olfactory senses and scent discriminatory ability."

An added benefit in having a man-trailing police bloodhound attached to the sheriff's department is the dog's use in investigations which would be deemed as crimes in progress.

If, perchance, a person would leave the scene of a crime on foot or slowly by car, the bloodhound can be scented from the scene to "track him down" or at least provide the direction of travel which the offender had taken. Many departments in the east and south use bloodhounds as permanent members of their police agencies.

"However," Brown stated, "Chuckles is the only bloodhound officially attached to a sheriff's office in the state of Illinois."

While there are three bloodhound handlers within the state, they are located in primarily the southern and central portion and are not always available for Lake County's use.

Chuckles has been trained at a seminar which was held in Virginia by the National Police Bloodhound Assn. of which Townsend is a member. The dog was featured on Channel Seven's Eyewitness News where he trailed Frank Mathie through the Lake Villa Township Park. Chuckles and Townsend visit numerous grade schools in the area and provide demonstrations for private and municipal groups. More information can be obtained about this activity by contacting the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. in Waukegan.
